

Laura Miller
Darco Manufacturing, Inc.

Laura Miller has worked for Darco Manufacturing, a provider of CNC machining services, for over 30 years. As the general manager, she is responsible for leading the company forward and equipping the Darco team to meet growing market demand.

Miller is active in the community and serves on several advisory boards including TDO, Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME), Madden School of Business, and BOCES. She is a co-founder of Making it in CNY (MiiCNY), a participant-driven brand initiative aimed at drawing attention to the diverse products made in our region and to the opportunities for businesses and workers.

She says her passion is: “work—making things, getting our hands dirty, figuring things out, inventing and connecting people and businesses to one another. It’s what we’re known for in this region and we can’t let people forget”.
